

THE UNIVERSITY OF JORDAN
FACULTY OF GRADUATE STUDIES

The Course Plan Of The Higher Specialty Degree In Forensic Medicine and Pathology

Plan No.

/٩٢/٠٩/١١SH

I. General Conditions:

1. This plan abides the general regulation of the Higher Specialty degree, in Medicine and Dentistry
2. The only specialty accepted for this program is the B.Sc. degree in Medicine.

II. Special Condition :

None.

III. The years of study and training:

Four years

IV. Course description:

a. Study and Training:

	STUDY AND TRAINING
	PATHOLOGY (1) gross examination microscopic examination tissue processing issue reports of tentative diagnosis. Refers to relevant literature. On duty for the medico-legal cases
SECOND	FORENSIC MEDICINE (1) Perform clinical examination of medico- legal cases. Assist in autopsy procedures. Assist in the investigation of the scene of crime. Review medical and medico-legal records and write summaries and relevant reports. Write preliminary medico – legal reports (under supervision) Dealing with emergency medico-legal cases. Select the proper sample, sampling procedure, sample container, and sample preservation and judge on sample quality and follow the

	chain of custody regarding the samples. Order the proper forensic, toxicologic and serologic tests. Determine the value of medical evidence at the courts of law Present related published topics. Seminars in Forensic medicine and pathology Seminars in Toxicology. Attending and participating in seminars that is conducted in the department of forensic medicine, pathology and microbiology. On duty for medico-legal cases.
THIRD	PATHOLOGY (2) gross examination microscopic examination tissue processing Issued reports of tentative diagnosis. Refers to relevant literature. On duty for the medico-legal cases
FOURTH	FORENSIC MEDICINE (2) Deal with different medico-legal problems, regarding the living and the dead . Issue Medic-legal reports. Perform the required of death inspection, postmortem examination Provide medico-legal consultation for other medical specialties. Carry out self-learning and education through continuing education. Analyze the results of reports in forensic science investigation Provide medical evidence and act as an expert witness at the courts of law regarding medico-legal cases. 8 .Seminars in Forensic medicine and pathology 9 .Seminars in Toxicology. 10 .Seminars held in the department of forensic medicine, pathology , and toxicology. 11 .Journal club.

12. On duty.

b. Comprehensive exam after the final year.

N. B.:-

The described training and its time in each year in the departments and divisions as well as the specialties where training takes place that is present in this plan is considered part of the whole program plan.